FOREWORD

In Birthdays the Beginning, you are brought to a dimension beyond time and space by a capricious being named Navi, who needs your help to cultivate life on a mysterious cube-shaped world.

Using the power to shape the land, you will give rise to a multitude of species as you plot the course of evolution, starting with single-celled organisms and working your way toward complex multicellular creatures such as plants, reptiles, dinosaurs, and even humans.

In this book you will see just some of the worlds that you can create, and sample the diversity of life that can emerge under the proper conditions.
